To whom it may concern:

Jennifer Logan has been my nurse manager for almost eight years at Albany Medical Center (AMC). Throughout the years, I have witnessed Ms. Logan exceed expectations as a nurse manager. One quality that separates Ms. Logan is her ability to be direct and forthcoming with staff. When encountering issues, Ms. Logan is sure to sit and speak directly to the source and formulate a resolution. In addition, Ms. Logan has helped countless employees enter physician assistant programs, medical schools, additional jobs in the medical field, and nurse practitioner programs.

Ms. Logan is a motivated and dedicated individual. During the COVID-19 pandemic, Ms. Logan helped coordinate re-deployment of staff to COVID-19 floors due to our unit being closed. This required Ms. Logan to rally our team of nurses together and provide support to many frustrated staff members. Throughout this difficult time, Ms. Logan continued to support and accommodate staff that had concerns about working in COVID-19 conditions. Ms. Logan maintained a positive and professional demeanor throughout this entire process. I have witnessed Ms. Logan's compassion and generosity toward staff members and patients alike on numerous occasions. As a future family nurse practitioner (FNP), Ms. Logan will take these experiences and apply them to difficult patient situations that may be encountered as a provider.

Ms. Logan has excellent multi-tasking capabilities. In addition to being a nurse manager on a vascular surgery unit she is the leader of the patient falls committee at AMC. She has made a significant impact on fall accountability and documentation throughout the facility. As a future FNP Ms. Logan would be an asset to any practice with her ability to maintain professionalism in difficult situations and her continued commitment to go beyond the standard of care.
